

iART

The smART newsletter to read

Cedar Hill School
Art Department.

WANTED: Storage Bags

Mrs. Ace needs gallon-sized, twist-tie storage bags! These bags are used to store wet clay projects. If you're feeling generous, please donate a box of bags to Mrs. Ace. Send them in with your children or feel free to drop them off directly.

AENJ and NJPAC Art Exhibit

Congratulations, Grayson M. of Ms. Horbatt's class and Francesca P. of Mrs. DV's class! These two talented students are two of the elite 30 students whom were chosen to have artwork exhibited at the New Jersey Performing Arts Center's Youth Art Exhibit. There are hundreds of entries from all over NJ. Their work will be exhibited outside the Victoria Theatre starting on February 13th.

Happy Valentine's Day!!!

The kindergarteners drew inspiration from Jim Dine, a famous American Pop artist. He made pictures of simple everyday objects and became known for his paintings of hearts. The kindergarteners used oil pastels and metallic watercolor paints to make valentine's hearts. To see more Jim Dine Heart Paintings, view our Cedar Hill Artsonia gallery.

Above works by Kaela C. and Matthew P. of Ms. Horbatt's class and Amanda P. and Kyle S. of Mrs. Sarnowski's class.

If you'd like to see more Hearts, visit the Cedar Hill School Artsonia Gallery.

Congrats, Joshua!

Joshua L. of Mrs. Smerillo's class was one of the two students selected out of all the Somerset County Youth Art Month Exhibit participants to exhibit his artwork at the New Jersey State Youth Art Month Exhibit at the Trenton State House! This is a very high honor! Congratulations!

Support Cedar Hill's Art Department through Artsonia and Competitions!

Artwork is still being posted on Artsonia every week! You will receive an e-mail that states your child has new artwork published. If you aren't receiving these e-mails, your e-mail address may not be recorded incorrectly in the system. If you are having doubts about joining, would like to verify that your are recorded in the system correctly, or have any questions at all, please e-mail Mrs. Ace at kace@bernardsboe.com. Also, remember that you can purchase your child's artwork printed on mugs, keychains, cards, t-shirts, and more! Fifteen percent of the money Artsonia makes from your purchase is donated to Cedar Hill's art department!

Currently there is a t-shirt design competition being held by P.S. from Aeropostale. The theme of the contest is "what makes you smile." Third, fourth, and fifth graders are eligible to participate. There is one entry per student and every participant receives a 20% off coupon for P.S. stores. The winner of the competition receives a $500 gift card to P.S. and the school receives $5000. Cedar Hill students are so creative and talented; any one of the students could win the competition. The applications are due on February 11th.

Visit Artsonia at www.artsonia.com/schools/cedarhill4